ST. LOUIS (AP) — Grand larceny and burglary convictions of James R. Weddell, arrested after the takeover of the Yankton, Sioux Tribe, Pork Plant in South Dakota, were affirmed Thursday by a federal appeals court.

Weddell had argued that the crimes were committed in "Indian Country," precluding prosecution, but the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals noted that the town of Wagner, S.D., is a municipal corporation separate from the Yankton Sioux Tribe.

Weddell was convicted of burglarizing a Coast-to-Coast store in the town of weapons and ammunition, which were later found in the plant where they were arrested.

Means Claims He's Still Indigent

Russell Means said Wednesday, May 4, the Minnehaha County Commission won't be able to force him to pay for transcripts of his 1975 trial on rioting charges.

Commission members have voiced feelings that Means is no longer indigent and should be forced to pay for copying 9,000 pages of trial transcript at a cost of about $13,500.

Means said he would "welcome any investigation by private, local, state or federal agencies upon my status."

In 1973, the Internal Revenue Service contacted his lawyer about his finances, Means said.

"Subsequently, I haven't heard any other inquiries from the Internal Revenue but I can assure any investigative agency and inquisitive person that based upon my educational background, all my financial records are in order by the year."

"And because I have appeared in 11 trials prior to this year since Wounded Knee and in each case was declared indigent by various state and federal judges, I again challenge anyone to investigate my financial status," Means said.

The American Indian Movement member said the move to question his finances was "specifically aimed at myself and the American Indian Movement (and it is) contrary to any common sense approach to improving race relations in this state."

It is the purpose of this communication to recommend the Director send a letter of commendation to SA WALTER P. J. QUIGLEY for the outstanding manner in which he handled the investigation and arrest of subject [REDACTED] and letters of appreciation to Sheriff RUBEN HUBER, Lake Andes, South Dakota, and SA [REDACTED] (NA), Pierre, South Dakota, for their assistance in the investigation and arrest of [REDACTED]

This fugitive investigation stemmed from the takeover of the Yankton Sioux Industries, Yankton Indian Reservation, Wagner, South Dakota, by Indian persons on 5/2/75. [REDACTED] was charged as a result of his participation in the takeover of the Yankton Sioux Industries plant and was apprehended during May, 1976, while in fugitive status. [REDACTED] was incarcerated as a result of this arrest in the [REDACTED] at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, until he escaped and again became a fugitive until apprehended on 1/28/77.

After [REDACTED] South Dakota State Penitentiary, a great deal of information was received from various sources that [REDACTED] was residing in a small Indian community in an extremely rural part of the State of South Dakota. The nature of this community made it impossible for [REDACTED] to enter same and make inquiries regarding [REDACTED] without [REDACTED] learning of FBI interest through relatives and friends.
